Huskers Seek To Build Off Program's Most Successful Season

After earning their first-ever Big Ten title and their first-ever NCAA Sweet 16 appearance, the Nebraska women's tennis team hopes to come up big in its 2014 campaign. The team is a young one after losing four seniors and adding six freshmen to the lineup, but still look to press for an impressive season.

"We have several new faces joining the program," Nebraska Coach Scott Jacobson said. "We believe we have a tremendously talented freshmen class. Replacing our top four players in a year that was the program's best in school history is a tremendously challenging task. However, we believe this year's program will compete at an incredibly high level. We, as a coaching staff and also as a team, are excited to get started. The leadership of our returning players Maggy Lehmicke, Izabella Zgierska, Maike Zeppernick and Lauren Wagner, will be very important to the success of our program."

This year's team only has two upperclassmen in senior Zeppernick and junior Zgierska. Two returning players are still sophomores, both Lehmicke and Wagner. The incoming freshmen class adds a wealth of inexperience to the team.

"Our incoming freshman class will fit in well with the philosophy of our program," Jacobson said. "We are expecting great things down the road. This is the largest freshman class we have ever recruited and I'm sure there will be a learning curve that takes place. However, all of these individuals have tremendous integrity, work ethic and great character. These qualities will allow for constant and consistent growth both on and off the court."

With only one returning senior in Zeppernick, the team will draw upon her experience for leadership and guidance. Zeppernick, a native of Hamburg, Germany, boasts a 56-40 combined record in her NU career. She has an impressive off-court resume claiming multiple academic honors such as Academic All-Big Ten, the ITAScholar-Athlete award, Nebraska Scholar-Athlete Honor Roll, Big Ten Distinguished Scholar and Big 12 Commissioner's Honor Roll.

"Maike's game continues to grow," Jacobson said. "Maike's greatest strength is her consistency and patience. We are expecting her senior year to be her best. Maike has a tremendous work ethic and will be a great role model for our program and especially the incoming freshman class."

The lone returning junior is Zgierska, a native of Miesbach, Germany. Zgierska holds a 42-33 career combined mark for Nebraska and has received honors such as Academic All-Big Ten, Nebraska Scholar-Athlete Honor Roll and the Nebraska Herman Award.

"Izabella made great strides her sophomore year," Jacobson said. "She seemed to gain confidence as the season progressed and we believe she has the ability to perform at a very high level. Trusting herself, relaxing, and just enjoying competing will allow her to perform at her highest level."

Nebraska has two returning sophomores in Lehmicke and Wagner. The two players will still be leaders on the team with only two teammates having more experience.

Lehmicke, a native of Kirkland, Wash., had a stellar freshman season and will continue to impress for the Huskers. Lehmicke enters her second season with a 34-23 combined overall and secured both the Nebraska Scholar-Athlete Honor Roll and Nebraska Herman Award. Lehmicke's singles abilities will play a crucial role in the Huskers lineup.

"Maggy had a very strong freshman year," Jacobson said. "We believe she will continue to improve going forward. Maggy has a big game. She will be a great leader for our program going forward."

Wagner, a native of Roslyn Heights, N.Y., saw limited action during her opening season ending with a 2-6 overall record, but still plays a vital role in molding the young talent entering the lineup while improving her own game. Wagner claimed the Nebraska Herman Award and a spot on the Nebraska Scholar-Athlete Honor Roll.

"Lauren showed great strides her freshman year," Jacobson said. "We are confident that Lauren will continue to progress her sophomore year."

The 2014 season sees six freshmen entering the lineup. The six players coming in are Lisa Andersson, Brittany Brewster, Mary Hanna, Katerina Matysova, Hannah Sulz and Spurti Shivalingaiah.

Andersson, a naive of Varberg, Sweden, brings international experience to the team. Andersson was ranked No. 34 nationally in Sweden in 2012-13 and was also a Swedish National Team Championship finalist.

"Lisa has a big game and plays an attacking style," Jacobson said. "Lisa has good aggression when the opportunity presents itself. She will be a tremendous benefit to us in both singles and doubles this upcoming season."

Brewster, a native of Austin, Texas, had an impressive junior career in the U.S. Brewster was All-District and All-Region in high school for 2011-12 while claiming the 4A State Singles title in Texas. In 2012, she was the Austin Female Player of the Year. Brewster's experience provides excellent ground work entering her college career.

"Brittany is a lefty who can do it all," Jacobson said. "One of Brittany's greatest strengths is her mind. In observing her compete, she always has tremendous composure irrespective of the score. This will bode well as she begins competing for the Huskers. Brittany will benefit us greatly in both singles and doubles."

Hanna, a native of Saline, Mich., claimed First-team All-State in high school along with her No. 5 Midwest ranking. Hanna is unique with her left-handed playing style.

"Mary is a lefty with a tremendously big game," Jacobson said. "She has an attacking style of play. Mary does a wonderful job and will punish her opponent when her opponent leaves the ball short. Mary is an outstanding doubles player and aggressive."

Matysova, a native of Erding, Germany, is one of four international recruits for the 2014 season. Matysova boasted an ITF No. 384 ranking in juniors, a No. 97 ranking in Germany and No. 11 U16 ranking in Germany.

"Katerina is a grinder whose strength is her consistency," Jacobson said. "Katerina has a strong mind, good court presence and plays intelligent, high-percentage tennis. We believe she is going to be a tremendous asset to the future of our Husker family."

Sulz, a native of Qualicum Beach, British Columbia, Canada, earned a No. 16 ITF Junior ranking in Canada. Sulz was the doubles champion at the Andulka Park Adult Open Tournament and received the Governor General's Academic Medal in high school. Jacobson believes she can step into the lineup immediately.

"Hannah is someone we believe has a tremendous upside," Jacobson said. "The strength of her game is definitely her forehand. She has the ability to hit a tremendously heavy ball and isn't afraid to move forward when the opportunity presents itself. Hannah has also had tremendous success in doubles as well and we believe she has the ability to step in and help our program immediately."

Shivalingaiah, a native of Bangalore, India, was ranked No. 232 in the World Junior ITF U18 rankings as well as No. 1,110 in the International WTA women's world rankings. She joined the Huskers in January but looks to compete for a spot in the lineup right away.

"We are certainly honored to have Spurti joining our Husker family," Jacobson said. "She is a tremendous player. Spurti has a very aggressive game and loves to attack when the opportunity presents itself. She has had tremendous success on the international level and we expect her to have an immediate and positive impact on our program this coming season. In addition to being a great player, Spurti's personality fits the team well. She is a very positive person that exudes good energy while competing. Spurti is a role model when it comes to work ethic. Her passion for the game will be evident the first time she steps on the court as a Husker."

The Huskers have 24 regular season dual matches scheduled with 19 of them at home. All of NU's non-conference matches will be at home and they host the ITA Kick-off Weekend for their second-straight season on Jan. 25-26. Six of their 11 conference matches are home matches, traveling only to Wisconsin, Purdue, Indiana, Northwestern and Illinois.

The Cornhuskers hope to make their third Big Ten Championships appearance on April 24-27 in Evanston, Ill. hosted by Illinois, before awaiting the NCAA Championships announcements in May.

Scott Jacobson

Head Coach | Blue Earth, Minn. | 23rd Season

Honors and Awards
- Big Ten Regular-Season Title (2013)
- Big Ten Co-Coach of the Year (2012)
- Big 12 Coach of the Year (2005, 2010)
- Six NCAA Tournament Appearances (2005, 2006, 2010, 2011, 2012, 2013)
- Nebraska Herman Award (2005, 2006, 2011, 2012, 2013)

Scott Jacobson is entering his 23rd season as head coach of the Nebraska women's tennis team, where he is the winningest and longest-serving coach in NU history. Jacobson has guided the team to 16 straight winning seasons, dating back to the Big 12's inaugural season in 1996-97, and has at least 16 victories in eight of the past nine years. He earned his 300th career victory in the 2011-12 season, as he enters this year with 333 wins. He also guided Mary Weatherholt to back-to-back Big Ten Women's Tennis Athlete of the Year awards during the team's first season in the conference in 2011-2012 and again in 2012-13.

Jacobson achieved his 250th career victory in the 2009-10 season, after entering with 243 wins. In the seventh match of the season against Air Force, the Huskers swept the Falcons 7-0 to give the coach the milestone victory. After laying a strong foundation in his first five years in Lincoln, Jacobson helped Nebraska become a fixture in the national rankings and a force in the Big 12 Conference.

Jacobson was named the 2005 Big 12 Coach of the Year after leading the team to its first-ever NCAA Tournament appearance and an 18-4 record. The following year, the Huskers made it to the semifinals of the Big 12 Championships, the farthest they have advanced in team history. They finished with a 17-10 record in 2006 and another berth to the NCAA Championships, while Kim Hartmann was named Big 12 Freshman of the Year.

In 2009, Jacobson helped the Huskers to their second straight 16-7 record, balancing a lineup of three talented newcomers along with three experienced seniors and four other returning letterwinners. The Huskers' 7-4 Big 12 record was good enough for fourth place in the conference, the team's second-highest finish ever and highest since it finished third in the 2005 season.

2010 saw the women's tennis team achieved their most successful season to date under Coach Jacobson. The team's impressive 22-6 record featured a 3rd place Big 12 finish and the Huskers' first ever victory in the NCAA Tournament against Illinois. In recognition of the team's accomplishments, Jacobson was named the 2010 Big 12 Coach of the Year for the second time in his career at Nebraska.

Nebraska's 2011 campaign reached comparable levels of success. The squad achieved a 20-8 record and a 4th place finish in their final season of Big 12 play. NU qualified for their third-straight NCAA Tournament and placed two student-athletes on the All-Big 12 singles team: Madeleine Geibert and Patricia Veresova. Under Jacobson, seven players have earned Big 12 individual titles, as well as 26 first-team All-Big 12 honors by 13 players.

The Huskers' 2012 campaign under Jacobson saw a school-record 24 wins and the Big Red's first appearance in a Big Ten Tournament. Mary Weatherholt earned a bid to the NCAA Individual Championships for singles where she fell in the first round, after earning the Big Ten Women's Athlete-of-the-Year honor and a Big Ten Sportsmanship Award. The scarlet and cream earned a spot in the NCAA Tournament and was knocked off in the second round. Coach Jacobson earned Big Ten Co-Coach of the Year honors for his guidance of the team.

In 2013, NU had its most successful season to date under Jacobson. The team earned its highest ranking ever in school history midway through the season peaking at No. 6 on the ITA list and finished the season at No. 16. The team went to the Sweet 16 of the NCAA Tournament, the furthest any squad has gone in program history. Seniors Mary Weatherholt and Patricia Veresova were automatic qualifiers for the NCAA Individual Championships where Weatherholt was to play singles and team up with Veresova for doubles. The duo made it to the quarterfinals where they lost as a member of the Elite Eight, becoming only the second pair in NU history to earn All-American doubles honors. Weatherholt went 5-1 in the singles bracket earning a spot on one side of the championship match where she lost to defending champion Nicole Gibbs of Stanford, making Weatherholt the 2013 NCAA Singles Runner-up and solidifying her record-breaking season and becoming the most successful player in the program's history. Jacobson guided Weatherholt to 208 career combined wins, the team's only player to ever break the 200 mark. Weatherholt earned All-American singles and doubles honors and was awarded the Big Ten Women's Tennis Athlete of the Year and Big Ten Sportsmanship Award for her second year straight. Jacobson helped Weatherholt to earn the National ITA Cissie Leary Sportsmanship Award, a prestigious accolade. Weatherholt and Veresova earned First-Team All-Big Ten and Stefanie Weinstein earned Second-Team honors. Weatherholt captured the 2013 Nebraska Female Student-Athlete of the Year given to one female across all Nebraska women's sports.

Academics have always been an area of success of the women's tennis team under Jacobson. During his career at NU, Jacobson's Huskers have earned numerous academic all-conference accolades. Jacobson also guided the athletic career of two-time CoSIDA Academic All-American Imke Reimers. The women's tennis team has also received the Herman Award three years straight from 2011 to 2013, given to the NU team with the top overall grade-point average for the academic year, multiple times.

Before becoming head coach in 1991, Jacobson helped the NU men's team to an 84-86 record as an assistant coach for nine years. After playing professionally for two seasons, Jacobson served as an assistant with the Husker men's program from 1979 to 1989. Jacobson also spent 11 years as the assistant director of the Tennis and Life Camp in St. Peter, Minn. He has been an employee of the camp for 23 years.

In 1995, Jacobson was awarded the David Aasen Award by the staff of the Tennis and Life Camp. The award honors enthusiasm, energy, sense of humor, high standards of sportsmanship, a love of teaching and a genuine concern for others.

Originally from Blue Earth, Minn., Jacobson has been involved in many activities in Nebraska. In the past he has been an instructor for the Lincoln Racquet Club and coordinator for the Husker Netters Booster Club.

Jacobson's Coaching Philosophy

"By helping our student-athletes develop the values of dedication, cooperation, compassion and the ability to handle adversity with courage, we help them grow as both tennis players and as people. Through a belief in one another and a positive approach to competition, we can build meaningful relationships off the tennis court and continue a winning tradition on it."

- No. 3 doubles national rank (player)
- No. 11 singles national rank (player)

German Dalmagro (pronounced Her-mahn Dal-mahg-ro) joined Nebraska on Aug. 12, 2013 as assistant coach for veteran head coach Scott Jacobson. The 2013-14 season marks his first on staff with the Huskers and Dalmagro looks to have an impact on the squad immediately. Dalmagro is a former member of the Kansas women's tennis coaching staff where he spent six seasons with the Jayhawks from 2006-13.

"We are honored to have German joining our Husker staff," Head Coach Scott Jacobson said. "He is an accomplished collegiate coach, a great player, established recruiter and fits the philosophy of our program very, very well. German is an incredibly genuine person and someone I know this team will grow to appreciate. I feel tremendously privileged to have the opportunity to work with him and can't wait to get started."

In his final season with the Jayhawks in 2012-13, the team went 11-10 and made it to the Big 12 tournament where they fell in the second round. At KU, his responsibilities included on-court coaching, organizing travel and aiding in recruiting. His strong ties to the southern states landed standout products for KU during his time on staff. Dalmagro joined Kansas following a very successful playing and coaching career at Division II University of West Florida.

Dalmagro was an assistant coach of both the men's and women's teams at UWF prior to joining the KU staff. During his year with West Florida, both teams reached the semifinals of the NCAA Tournament. Dalmagro's coaching stay at West Florida was brief, but his impact produced one of the most decorated tennis players in school history.

Dalmagro had a successful individual career at UWF and Abraham Baldwin Agricultural College. Dalmagro was a member of UWF's back-to-back NCAA Division II National Championship teams in 2004 and 2005, and was part of the 2005 Gulf South Conference Champion team and 2004 Gulf South runner-up squad. Dalmagro's career was highlighted by All-America honors in 2004 (doubles), 2003 (singles and doubles) and 2002 (singles and doubles). Dalmagro was ranked nationally as high as No. 3 in doubles and No. 11 in singles.

Dalmagro saw success off the court while at West Florida, as he helped the Argonauts earn the 2004 National Award for highest team GPA and was named to the Dean's List.

Prior to transferring to West Florida, Dalmagro played at ABAC. At ABAC, he was the NJCAA Player of the Year in 2003 and the individual National Champion in 2002. Dalmagro's tennis coaching experience stretches beyond West Florida. In 2004 and 2005, Dalmagro served as the head coach at the Nike Tennis Camp in Lawrenceville, N.J., and also coached at Abraham Baldwin College in Tifton, Ga., from 2002 to 2003.

Dalmagro graduated from West Florida, earning a degree in business administration with a specialization in management.

Dalmagro's Coaching Philosophy

"I believe in assisting the student-athletes to reach and experience their full potential. To have an environment that encourages the athletes to learn and develop on and off the court. By using the values of hard work, dedication, passion, discipline, mental toughness, and integrity, while focusing on the process, and not so much on the end results. My goal is to inspire and offer a positive approach in all areas that will help each athlete be the best they can be, and become a better person overall."

Shawn Eichorst

Athletic Director | Wisconsin-Whitewater (1990) | Second Season

Administrative Experience

- Nebraska, Athletic Director (2013-present)
- Miami, Athletic Director (2011-12)
- Wisconsin, Deputy Athletic Director (2009-11)
- Wisconsin, Executive Associate Athletic Director (2007-09)
- Wisconsin, Senior Associate Athletic Director (2006-07)
- South Carolina, Interim Athletic Director (2005-06)
- South Carolina, Senior Associate Athletic Director (2004-05)
- Wisconsin-Whitewater, Athletic Director (1999-2003)

Shawn Eichorst was named the 14th Director of Athletics of the University of Nebraska by Chancellor Harvey Perlman on Oct. 4, 2012. Eichorst leads a tradition-rich athletic program of 24 varsity athletic teams, 600-plus student-athletes and more than 275 full-time employees. Eichorst succeeded legendary Nebraska football coach and Athletic Director Tom Osborne and officially assumed his duties on Jan. 3, 2013.

"I am honored to have the opportunity to join the University of Nebraska family," Eichorst said. "Nebraska is an outstanding academic institution with one of the strongest athletic departments in all of college sports," Eichorst said. "Most importantly, everyone here is committed to keeping the welfare of our student-athletes at the heart of everything we do. I am humbled by the responsibility and opportunities that lie ahead and will work diligently to carry on the rich tradition of Husker excellence set forth by Coach Osborne and so many others."

Nebraska Chancellor Harvey Perlman said it was Eichorst's commitment to putting student-athletes first that made Eichorst stand out.

"When I asked him how I would be able to measure his success if he were here five years from now," Perlman said, "his response was that if the coaches and student-athletes had been successful and nobody knows his name, it would be a success."

Although his preference is to serve and lead diligently from the background, Eichorst has already canvassed the state promoting Husker Athletics and Nebraska's tremendously talented student-athletes making more than 70 appearances across Nebraska and visiting eight other states in just his first seven months. Eichorst emphasizes academics first and is proud to acknowledge Nebraska's nation-leading 307+ Academic All-Americans, including five who earned the honor in 2012-13. In fact, he invited all of the academic honor winners back to campus for a reunion in November. He has met with each college dean on campus and uses his monthly radio show and his Connecting on Campus column to promote campus, coach and student-athlete academic and community successes. More than 200 Husker student-athletes were honored at the academic recognition banquet this spring while 188 were named Academic All-Big Ten in 2012-13.

During Eichorst's first semester at Nebraska in the spring of 2013, women's bowling, coached by legend Bill Straub, won a national title and Rhonda Revelle's softball team advanced to the Women's College World Series.

The women's basketball team, coached by Connie Yori, completed a run to the Sweet 16 for the second time in program history and the women's tennis team, coached by Scott Jacobson, made an appearance in the Sweet 16 for the first time in program history and earned a share of the Big Ten title. Tennis player Mary Weatherholt finished runner-up at the NCAA Singles Championship, the highest-ever finish for a Nebraska tennis player.

In addition to women's tennis, two other Nebraska teams added Big Ten titles in the spring of 2013, as the women's gymnastics team, coached by Dan Kendig, won its second-straight Big Ten title and third-straight conference title overall. The men's track and field team, coached by Gary Pepin, claimed the outdoor team title.

In the fall of 2013, three facility projects were completed: Memorial Stadium, which expanded to accommodate more than 90,000 football fans and will include the Nebraska Athletic Performance Laboratory (NAPL) and the Center for Brain, Biology and Behavior (CB3) research facilities; Pinnacle Bank Arena in downtown Lincoln, where the Husker men's and women's basketball teams will be permanent tenants; and the renovated Bob Devaney Sports Center, where volleyball, men's and women's gymnastics and the wrestling team will compete. Construction for each of these three facilities began with Coach Osborne at the helm. Athletic Director Emeritus Osborne continues to provide Eichorst with counsel on a number of items including the East Stadium research initiatives. The collaborative research that will take place within an athletic facility shared by academics and athletics is believed to be the first of its kind and sets the tone for the leadership role Nebraska has taken in the Big Ten Conference and nationally.

Eichorst came to Nebraska after spending 18 months as the Director of Athletics at the University of Miami. He was named the 12th Director of Athletics at Miami on April 12, 2011 and served until Oct. 4, 2012 when he was hired by Nebraska as a Special Assistant to Chancellor Perlman.

In his first year as Director of Athletics at Miami, Eichorst helped grow the academic reputation as well as the fan base. Under his watchful eye, the Hurricane Club grew by more than 500 members, surpassing 5,000 members nationwide. More than $19 million in student-athlete support was generated in 2011-12 and an additional $14.2 million in capital gifts was raised toward the new Center for Athletic Excellence facility, scheduled for completion in the fall of 2013.

During his tenure, both the Hurricane men's and women's basketball programs advanced to the postseason, with the women posting the highest national ranking in school history at No. 5, advancing to the NCAA Second Round. The women's tennis team advanced to the NCAA quarterfinals for the fourth straight season and the baseball program extended its NCAA postseason appearances streak to 40 consecutive seasons. The women's soccer team posted the first NCAA postseason win in program history, while the volleyball team advanced to the NCAA postseason for the third straight year and finished the season ranked 15th in the nation.

Before his appointment at Miami, Eichorst served from 2009 to 2011 as the Deputy Athletics Director at the University of Wisconsin, where his responsibilities under Director of Athletics Barry Alvarez included serving as the department's Chief Operating Officer and overseeing the day-to-day operations of the highly successful athletics program. At Wisconsin, Eichorst was involved in the design and planning of a new ice hockey and swimming facility completed in the fall of 2012, as well as with the Student-Athlete Performance Center in the north end zone of Camp Randall Stadium. He joined the Badgers' staff in 2006 as a Senior Associate Athletics Director and was promoted to Executive Associate Athletics Director in 2007.

Eichorst has experience with three BCS conference institutions previously serving as University of South Carolina's Senior Associate Athletics Director for Administration from 2004 to 2006. With the Gamecocks, Eichorst oversaw daily operations of the department and supervised the football and baseball programs. The football team was bowl-eligible each year during Eichorst's tenure, and the baseball program competed in the 2004 College World Series. Additionally, he coordinated and supervised multi-million dollar facility projects, including a state-of-the-art football training facility.

Eichorst served as the Director of Athletics at his alma mater, University of Wisconsin-Whitewater until 2003. Under his tenure, UW-Whitewater developed into one of the nation's top Division III athletic programs, with four top 10 percent National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics (NACDA) Directors Cup finishes; one NCAA team championship; two NCAA team runner-up finishes and five individual national champions. The program also featured 38 Academic All-America selections, seven NCAA Postgraduate Scholarship winners and 74 All-Americans.

A native of Lone Rock, Wis., Eichorst was an all-conference defensive back, a three-time letterwinner and 1990 team captain for the University of Wisconsin-Whitewater football team. He graduated magna cum laude in business from UW-Whitewater in 1990 and earned a law degree from Marquette University in 1995. He practiced law in Milwaukee before accepting the position at Wisconsin-Whitewater.

He is a past member of the NCAA Division I Student-Athlete Reinstatement Committee and State Bar of Wisconsin Board of Governors. He also previously served as an assistant adjunct professor of law at Marquette University Law School, where he taught classes in sports law. He currently serves on the Marquette University National Sports Law Institute Board of Advisors.

In 2006, he was awarded the Sports Law Alumnus of the Year by Marquette. He also is a graduate of the Sports Management Institute and serves on its Executive Committee.

Eichorst and his wife Kristin have three sons: Jack, Joseph and Bennett.

The Nebraska women's tennis team produced its most historical season ever in 2012-13, finishing with a 24-6 overall record. It was NU's fourth consecutive 20-win campaign, and the Huskers' fourth straight NCAA Tournament appearance as well as their first-ever Sweet 16 qualification. Nebraska defeated 13 nationally ranked teams in 2013 and finished the year with the school's highest national ranking ever at No. 16.

"I believe this season was significant as it brought more exposure to our program both nationally and internationally," Nebraska Coach Scott Jacobson said. "We are hopeful that the success of our program will lead to talented young athletes from all over the world to consider our Husker family."

"Every year is important," Jacobson said. "The long-term success of our program is due to talented young athletes committed to the concept of 'team first'. 16 of the past 17 years, our program has obtained a national ranking, placing it in the top 25 percent of all NCAA division one programs on a consistent basis. The past four years our program has elevated to a level comparable to the top five to ten percent of programs throughout the nation. We hope to continue the tradition that has been present with a group of very young, but talented, individuals entering our program."

The Huskers kicked off their fall campaign at the Racquet Club Midland Invitational, Riviera All-American Championships and the ITA Central Region Championships. NU logged playing time that prepared the Scarlet and Cream for its most successful season in history.

Transitioning into the spring season, Nebraska tallied a couple of victories over Eastern Michigan and Creighton at home before hosting the ITA Kick-off Weekend event. The event brought nationally-ranked Georgia Tech, Notre Dame and Tennessee to the Nebraska Tennis Center. All teams were in the ITA top 25 and provided action-packed matches. NU defeated then-ranked No. 23 Tennessee 4-3 and No. 18 Notre Dame 4-1 to win the event and claim their spot in the ITA National Indoor Team Championships.

Before heading to the ITA National Team Indoor event, the Cornhuskers defeated Big Ten opponents No. 55 Ohio State 4-2 on the road. At the ITA Team Indoors, NU faced three more top 25 ranked teams. The Scarlet and Cream began the event with a loss to No. 10 Miami 4-2 but bounced back with two strong wins over No. 21 Vanderbilt by a score of 4-3 and No. 15 Baylor at 4-1.

The Cornhuskers rattled off eight more consecutive victories to bring their winning streak to ten matches. This marked the sixth straight season NU unleashed at least 10 wins in a row. The most important of the eight triumphs was that over No. 7-ranked Northwestern, which played a pivotal role in the season's results. NU remained in the ITA Top 25 the entire season and the highest ranking the Cornhuskers were able to achieve throughout the season was No. 6 in the nation, the highest to date in school history.

In conference play, Nebraska dropped only one match to No. 7 Michigan in a 5-2 defeat on the road. The Scarlet and Cream went on to become the Big Ten Champions for the regular season with a 10-1 conference mark, sharing it with the only team to beat them, Michigan. The Big Ten regular season title was the team's first conference title since 1978 when NU was in the Big Eight and pre-dating the Scott Jacobson era.

At the Big Ten Tournament, NU started the event with a victory over Minnesota 4-0, pitting

Mary Weatherholt had an amazing season in 2013 by earning the singles runner-up at the NCAA singles tournament and putting together a record of 52-6 in combined play, receiving her second consecutive Big Ten Women's Tennis Athlete of the Year award and becoming the winningest player in Nebraska history and the only player to reach 200 wins with her 208 combined total.

Nebraska's First Big Ten Regular Season Title in 2013

The 2012-13 Nebraska women's tennis team made it the farthest it has ever been in the NCAA Championships when they advanced to the Sweet 16. The team also hosted the first and second rounds of the NCAA Championship tournament as one of the multiple campus sites for the first time in school history.

them against Northwestern in the second round. The Wildcats got the upper hand in the match and knocked out the Huskers by a score of 4-1, claiming revenge from the regular-season match.

Finishing the regular season ranked No. 16 by the ITA, the Cornhuskers laid claim to their first-ever hosting of the NCAA Tournament as one of the regional campus sites for the first and second rounds of play. Nebraska welcomed No. 27 Tulsa, No. 57 UNLV and unranked Wichita State. In the first round, UNLV dropped Tulsa 4-3 and NU swept Wichita State 5-0. In the second round match, the Big Red snagged a 4-1 decision over UNLV, pushing them through to the Sweet 16.

In Nebraska's first-ever Sweet 16 appearance, their opponent was defending national champions North Carolina. The Tar Heels ousted the Huskers 4-1, knocking them out of the tournament and ending the season.

Mary Weatherholt closed out her season earning an NCAA bid in singles play for the Division I Women's Tennis Championships. Weatherholt garnered a five-win streak in the tournament to put her in the national championship match. The streak included victories over No. 38 Aleksandra Josifoska of UNLV, No. 43 Klara Fabikova of California, UCLA's No. 3 Robin Anderson, Georgia's No. 6 Lauren Henning and Alabama's Alexa Guarachi. In the championship match, Weatherholt faced defending champion No. 13 Nicole Gibbs from Stanford. Gibbs was able to secure the win 6-2, 6-4, making Weatherholt the NCAA Singles runner-up in 2013.

The Huskers closed a successful campaign with several team and individual awards. On the court, Weatherholt and Patricia Veresova earned All-Big Ten first team honors while Stefanie Weinstein claimed second team accolades. Six players added academic All-Big Ten honors, including Weatherholt, Veresova, Weinstein, Janine Weinreich, Maike Zeppernick and Izabella Zgierska. Weatherholt claimed her second consecutive Big Ten Player of the Year award in 2013 after receiving it in 2012. Weatherholt earned Big Ten Player of the Week three times in 2013 on Jan. 30, Feb. 13 and March 13. Weatherholt earned the Big Ten Sportsmanship award for a second consecutive season and also received the Big Ten Medal of Honor, the conference's most prestigious award.

Outside of the Big Ten conference, the women's tennis team earned Nebraska's Herman Award for the highest team GPA of all female sports while Weatherholt claimed the Nebraska Student Athlete of the Year award, which goes to only one male and female student athlete out of all the Husker sports teams. Weatherholt earned the National ITA Cissie Leary Sportsmanship award while also grabbing Nebraska's first-ever All-America honors in singles. Weatherholt and Veresova also earned All-America Honors as a doubles team, only the second pair to do so in program history.

The most prestigious award went to Weatherholt when she received the NCAA Top Ten Award in January of 2014. The award goes to only ten student athletes in the whole nation across all sports. Weatherholt earned the award due to her dedication to excellence both on and off the court and in the community.

"I don't believe there will ever been any one person that will accomplish more than Mary Weatherholt has accomplished at Nebraska," Jacobson said. "She is the best tennis player in the history of our program. More importantly, she was honored for her accomplishments off the court, and her service to the community. Mary was acknowledged as the winner of the Cissie Leary Sportsmanship award. She is an incredibly well-rounded lady. I'm sure she will have tremendous success in any avenue she pursues."

Nebraska lost four seniors in Weatherholt, Veresova, Weinstein and Weinreich. Weatherholt finished with a 208-50 combined record with 123-23 in singles and 85-27 in doubles. Weatherholt is the first and only player in program history to reach over 200 combined career singles and doubles victories. Veresova finished at 142-51 overall including 75-28 singles and 67-23 doubles. Weinstein ended with a 186-73 overall and 89-39 in singles and 97-34 in doubles. Weinreich concluded her career with a 145-81 combined record including 68-45 in singles and 77-36 in doubles. The four set numerous program records, which can be found on page 21.

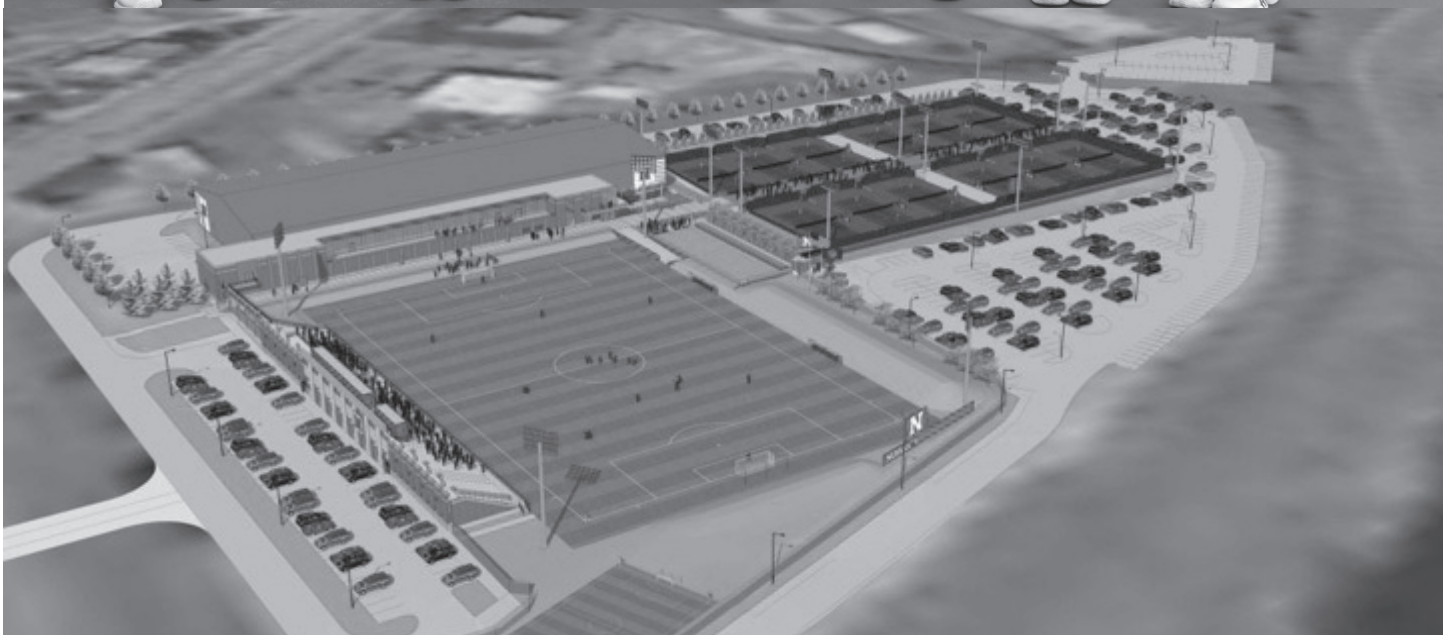
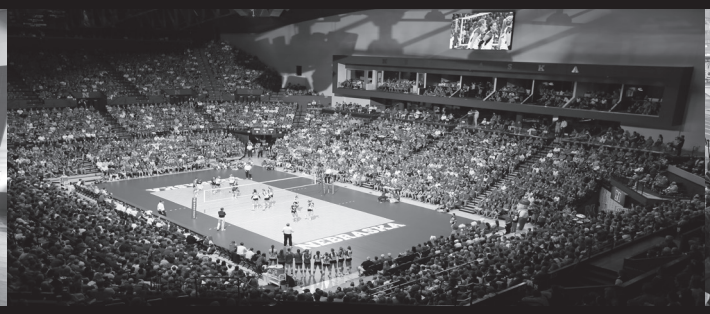
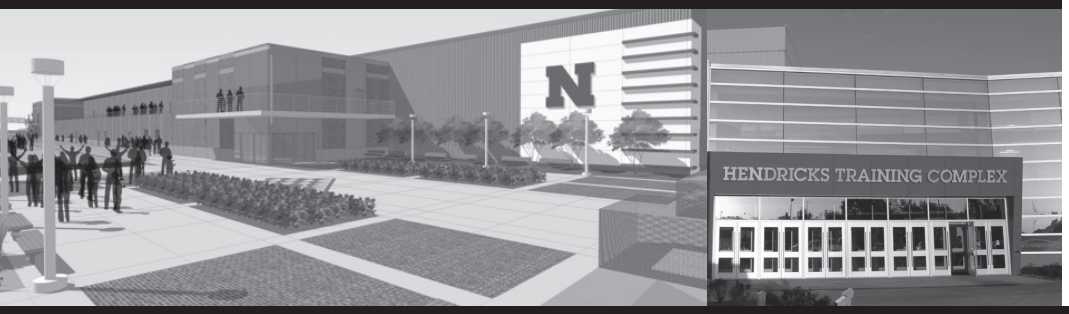
NEBRASKA
WOMEN'S TENNIS

The Nebraska women's tennis team continued its climb to national prominence in 2013, reaching its first NCAA Sweet 16 while making its fourth consecutive trip to the NCAA Tournament. The Huskers, who claimed a share of the 2013 Big Ten Conference title, were led by the most successful senior class in school history, including Janine Weinreich, Stefanie Weinstein, Mary Weatherholt and Patricial Veresova. Weatherholt capped the most successful career in school history by earning All-America honors in both singles and doubles play, including an NCAA runner-up finish in singles. She also advanced to the NCAA Elite Eight in doubles play with Veresova, who added All-America honors in doubles. After hosting the first and second rounds of the 2013 NCAA Tournament in Lincoln, Nebraska received approval to build a new on-campus indoor/outdoor tennis complex that is expected to be completed in 2014-15.



CHAMPIONSHIP FACILITIES





Nebraska's top facilities are not limited to the men's tennis program. Nearly every Husker sport enjoys a venue that ranks among the nation's best.

In 2013, approval was given to build a new indoor/outdoor tennis facility on the University of Nebraska campus to benefit both the Husker men's and women's tennis programs. The facility will be built in conjunction with a new varsity soccer stadium at Nebraska.

In 2013-14, the Nebraska men's and women's basketball team moved into the new Pinnacle Bank Arena in downtown Lincoln. The 15,000-seat arena will be the new home of both teams while also attracting the nation's top entertainers to Lincoln throughout the year. The nationally prominent Nebraska volleyball team moved into the Devaney Center in 2013, after the building received a $20 million renovation.

Middle: Nebraska's teams compete in some of the nation's finest facilities in front of large crowds. The Huskers are also committed to improving their facilities on an annual basis, including the new Hendricks Training Complex, which opened in the fall of 2011, and Pinnacle Bank Arena (top right), which opened in 2013-14 for Nebraska men's and women's basketball. Memorial Stadium expanded by more than 5,000 seats for 2013, while adding an innovative academic/athletic research wing in the East Stadium.

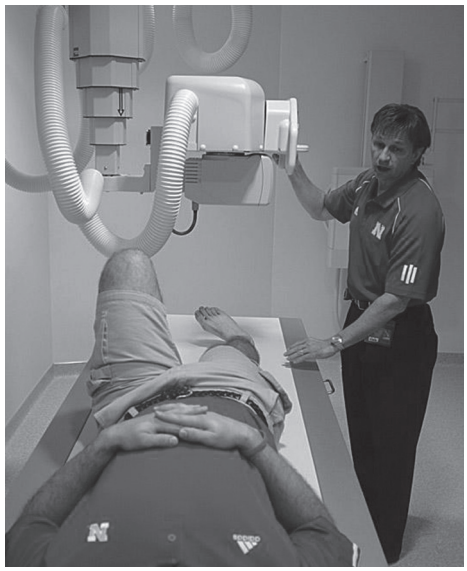
The soccer/tennis complex entrance will feature an archway walk-in (right).

ATHLETIC MEDICINE

Providing expert care to more than 600 Husker student-athletes, Nebraska features one of the most well-trained and highly skilled athletic medicine staffs in the country.

Under the guidance of Director of Athletic Medicine Dr. Lonnie Albers and Head Athletic Trainer and Physical Therapist Jerry Weber, the 2013-14 Nebraska athletic medicine staff consists of five doctors, 11 athletic trainers and six graduate assistant athletic trainers.

Nebraska's team of orthopaedists is led by Chief of Staff Dr. Pat Clare, a nationally respected orthopaedic surgeon with more than 30 years of service to Husker athletics.

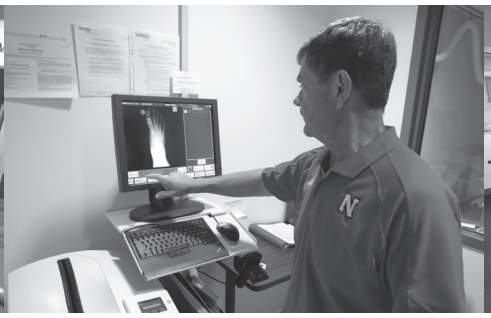


Above: Associate Athletic Director and Director of Athletic Medicine Dr. Lonnie Albers coordinates the care of Husker student-athletes by using some of the best on-site technology in collegiate athletics.

The Athletic Medicine Center features a hydrotherapy area that includes a three-level laned pool, which allows student-athletes across all of Nebraska's sports to work out simultaneously. The Hydroworx 1000 Treadmill Pool is equipped with two cameras underwater for evaluation and assessment, while hot and cold plunge tanks are also available to the Huskers.

The medical facilities at Nebraska have long been among the nation's best, and NU's athletic medicine center within the Tom and Nancy Osborne Athletic Complex will keep the Huskers on the front line of technology for decades to come. In addition to Nebraska's North Stadium facility, the Bob Devaney Sports Center, Haymarket Park and Pinnacle Bank Arena all feature athletic medicine areas. The Devaney Center's Athletic Medicine facility underwent an extensive expansion as part of the Hendricks Training Complex addition in 2011.

Using the best on-site medical equipment and resources in college athletics, the Nebraska athletic medicine staff provides Husker student-athletes with highly skilled medical care throughout the year.



NUTRITION

Nebraska's Sports Nutritionists Lindsey Remmers works with all 24 of Nebraska's sports by educating athletes on topics such as increasing lean body mass, losing body fat, staying hydrated, nutritional strategies for competition, maximizing recovery following workouts and supplement use. Athletes are given individualized nutrition plans that can be applied in Nebraska's Performance Buffet at the Lewis Training Table, which was remodeled and expanded in the 2010 season. In addition to utilizing the Lewis Training Table each day for lunch and dinner, student-athletes also have access to fueling stations near strength and conditioning areas to provide fluids and nutritional foods before and after workouts to maximize performance and recovery.

ACADEMIC SUCCESS

The success of Nebraska student-athletes reaches far beyond athletic competition. More Husker student-athletes have been selected to CoSIDA Academic All-America teams (310) than any other school in the nation, and Nebraska has produced more NCAA Top Ten Award winners (17) than any other school. As it enters its third season of Big Ten Conference competition in 2013-14, Nebraska continues to set the standard for the approximately 1,400 NCAA member institutions.

The Husker football team leads all individual sport programs in the nation with 107 all-time CoSIDA Academic All-America awards. The Notre Dame football program ranks second among all sports nationally with 58 all-time academic All-Americans. In fact, Nebraska's 107 football academic All-Americans would rank among the top 25 schools (all sports, all divisions) in the nation in the number of total CoSIDA Academic All-Americans. The NU volleyball program has captured more academic All-America awards (37) than any other women's team in the nation, while the Husker softball program ranks second on that list with 29 selections. Nebraska also ranks among the top 10 schools in the nation in CoSIDA Academic All-Americans in baseball, women's basketball and men's and women's track and field/cross country. Over the past two years, the men's and women's track and field programs have produced 10 CoSIDA Academic All-Americans - the most in the nation during that span.

Huskers Build on Academic Tradition in 2012-13

Husker student-athletes produced another outstanding year in 2012-13, continuing NU's tradition of academic success. The Huskers added eight CoSIDA Academic All-Americans and their nation-leading total has grown to 310 at the start of 2014. Nebraska's eight academic All-Americans led the Big Ten Conference and ranked among the highest totals in the nation across all divisions. NU maintained its lead of 76 all-time CoSIDA Academic All-Americans over No. 2 Notre Dame. Since 2000, Nebraska has amassed a nation-leading 120 CoSIDA Academic All-Americans, which would rank in a tie for 13th over the more than 60 years of the academic All-America program. Nebraska has produced at least one academic All-American in 43 consecutive seasons.

THE NEBRASKA ACADEMIC EXPERIENCE

From the day student-athletes decide the University of Nebraska is the right place to be, the athletic academic counseling unit provides personal and academic support to ensure that student-athletes will get the most out of their years as Huskers. Featuring one of the most innovative and comprehensive academic support systems in the country, Nebraska is dedicated to helping its student-athletes become outstanding leaders in their chosen fields. The academic support team is comprised of 13 full-time staff members and a tutorial staff of approximately 75 tutors addressing all subject areas.

Academic Counseling

Eight academic counselors and three assistant academic counselors are in place to monitor daily academic progress, receive consistent course feedback, assist with the advising/registration process and monitor continuing eligibility and progress toward graduation. Essentially, academic counselors assist student-athletes in navigating the University of Nebraska system.

Tutorial Support

A tremendous resource for all academic abilities, unlimited tutorial support is available from day one up to college graduation. Subject and mentor tutors help provide academic support and study strategies to be successful. Supplemental Instruction, a sub-component of the tutorial program, provides targeted group review sessions to help ease the transition to college academics while improving study strategies and building academic self-esteem.

Study Hall

Nebraska's study hall program is housed in the D.J. Sokol Enrichment Center within the Dick and Peg Herman Family Student Life Complex. Student-athletes attend a supervised, flex-time study hall that features day, evening and weekend hours. Each student-athlete is required to complete a specific number of study hours each week as determined by their academic counselor and/or coach. In addition, weekly study hall reports are provided to the coaching staff. Additional performance-based or tutor-based study hall may also be determined by the academic counselor.

Mentoring

Many student-athletes meet with a mentor on a weekly basis to assist in making a smooth transition from high school to college. Mentors collect syllabi, gather and report academic progress information and teach academic success strategies.

Educational Assessments

Assessments are administered upon the request of the student-athlete, academic counselor, or coach to determine student strengths and areas for improvement. Results allow academic counselors to develop a personalized academic support program and to determine if more in-depth testing is warranted. When additional assessments are necessary, referrals are made to a consulting psychologist who conducts the assessments. If it is determined that a student-athlete has a learning disability, appropriate accommodations are made through the Office of Services for Students with Disabilities.

Student-Athlete Orientation

The academic staff coordinates New Student-Athlete Orientation to help newcomers adjust to the multiple demands of being a college student-athlete. Presentations are made by academic counselors, compliance officials, NU faculty and administrators, business/community professionals and student-athletes.

Personal Counseling

Student-athletes will find a supportive and caring environment at Nebraska. Transitional issues, stress management, time management, academic focus and problem resolution are all addressed in a proactive manner throughout the year. If necessary, counseling referrals are also made to designated practitioners.

Computer Resources

Student-athletes enjoy a new state-of-the art computer lab and technology center with 58 computers and professional supervision. Laptops are also available during team travel. Student-athletes have the benefit of ongoing education and assistance from a full-time computer technician.

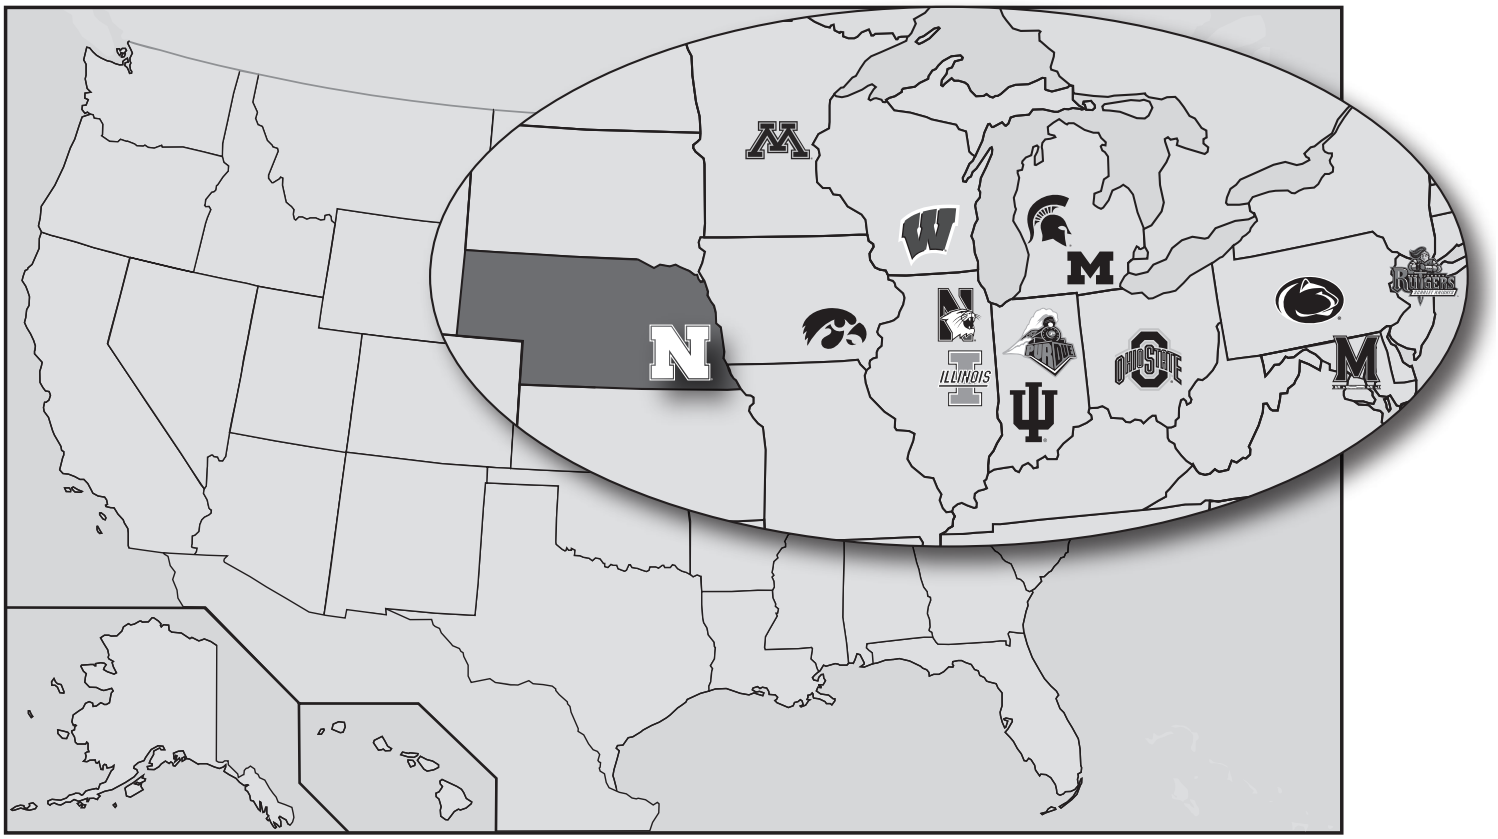
BIG TEN CONTINUES TO EXPAND NATIONAL REACH



On July 1, 2011, the University of Nebraska became an official member of the Big Ten Conference, increasing the Big Ten's membership to 12 institutions for the first time in conference history. The addition of Nebraska marked the Big Ten's first expansion since Penn State University joined the conference in June of 1990. The nation's oldest conference will continue to grow with the addition of Maryland and Rutgers in 2014-15. Currently, the Big Ten Conference is a union of 12 world-class academic institutions – who share a common mission of research, graduate, professional and undergraduate teaching and public service. The conference's 100-plus years of history, strong tradition of competitive intercollegiate athletic programs, vast and passionate alumni base, and consistent leadership in innovations position the Big Ten and its entire community firmly on the Big Stage.

The Big Ten has sustained a comprehensive set of shared practices and policies that enforce the priority of academics and emphasize the values of integrity, fairness and competitiveness in all aspects of its student-athletes' lives, with the ultimate goal of ensuring that each individual has the opportunity to live a Big Life.

Big Ten Conference Highlights

• Big Ten universities provide approximately $136 million in direct financial aid to nearly 10,000 men and women student-athletes who compete for 25 championships. Hockey will become the Big Ten's 26th official conference championship sport in 2013-14.

• Conference institutions sponsor broad-based athletic programs with 299 teams. Other than the Ivy League, the Big Ten has the most broad-based athletic programs in the United States.

• Big Ten fans are some of the nation's most supportive, with nearly 10 million patrons attending conference home contests for football, men's and women's basketball and volleyball during 2012-13. In 2012, the Big Ten set new records for overall football attendance and surpassed the six-million mark for all games for the second straight year. During 2012-13, the Big Ten led the nation in men's basketball and women's volleyball attendance, while ranking second nationally in football and women's basketball attendance.

• Over the last 34 seasons, the conference has ranked either No. 1 or No. 2 nationally in football, men's basketball and wrestling attendance.

• The Big Ten leads all conferences with more than 4.5 million living alumni and 320,000 undergraduate students.
